

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

GoldenAngels.Com is an advertising platform operated by a website marketing company based in Swiss and offering advertising space for a fee. The advertisers are independent companions who offer their time and companionship for payment. The advertisers are all self-employed and choose to pay an advertising fee for publishing their service (that of companionship to a person or persons of either the same or the opposite sex) on this website. This website is neither an escort agency nor an escort management service and neither consents to nor has any knowledge of any illegal activity on behalf of the advertisers. Each advertiser has declared in writing that he or she is over the age of 18, providing a service of companionship and that the fees charged are solely for that purpose. Anything more than companionship, for example intimate or sexual activity of any kind which may occur in the course of the companionship meeting is a private and personal matter between two or more consenting adults of legal age. The advertisers declare that no money changing hands is paid as a result of intimacy being promised or offered by any person or persons advertising on or connected in any way with this website. This advertising agency does not and will not collect any fees for, or on behalf of, the advertisers and all payments are made directly with the advertisers. The personal information provided by the advertisers is supplied solely by them. The website owners, directors and officers hereby state that they are not responsible for any of the content.

General Terms:

It is understood that GoldenAngels.Com is not the employer of any person offering services on this website. GoldenAngels.Com assumes no liability whatsoever and solely provides website space for advertising.

Discretion:

This website offers absolute reliability and discretion to anyone and everyone visiting it. No data received in the course of your making contact with any advertiser will be passed on in any form to a third party. No personal information, financial or otherwise, known to this website will be requested, handled or used in any way whatsoever.

Terms of ordering an arrangement:

Make direct contact with a companion (advertiser) by sending an e-mail to her or by submitting the reservation form. The advertiser will respond as quickly as possible and advise if your requested dates for companionship are available. If your chosen companion confirms that she is available for that time, agree with her provisional flights. Make the companion's travel arrangements within 24 hours or so and then send to her a copy of the confirmation showing the flight details and booking number. The advertiser will then provide her mobile number so that you can, if you wish, text or speak with her prior to the meeting.

Minimum Age Requirements:

You must be at least 18 years of age to make contact with and/or employ the services of a companion who is advertising on this website. All companions are at least 18 years of age. A meeting with an advertiser is an arrangement between two consenting adults of good health and sound mind.

Duration of an Arrangement:

For the purposes of making these arrangements, "1 Day" commences at the time the companion is required to meet you at the hotel, resort, railway station or airport – whichever you prefer and is agreed in advance - and terminates 24 hours thereafter.

The time required by your companion for travel to and from the agreed meeting place does not need to be paid for. The time and place of the first meeting with your companion is at your discretion and choosing, subject to agreement by the companion.

Terms of Payment:

The payment made to your companion is made to her direct in Euros (cash) and must be made within the first 30 minutes of first meeting or by creditcard in advance.

Accommodation:

Unless "on tour", your companion will assume that she will stay in your hotel and share the accommodation you have already booked and have paid for or will be paying for.

Food and Drink:

If you are spending 12 hours or longer with a companion, you are responsible for the cost of reasonable meals, snacks, drinks and general entertainment for the duration of your time together. Your companion's shopping and grooming costs are however her own responsibility.

Girls on Tour:

From time to time, the advertisers go "on tour", that is to say they choose a location, make their own accommodation arrangements and stay there for several days. You then meet with your companion at her hotel or apartment and no travel costs are incurred.

Cancellation of an Arrangement:

You may of course cancel any arrangement at any time although in most circumstances you will not be able to obtain a refund for any travel ticket(s) already purchased or any payments already made in advance to the (advertiser(s) with whom you booked. Once the full payment to your companion(s) has been made, upon first meeting with her/them, it is non-refundable unless circumstances require that she/they must curtail the arrangement for a serious reason - in which case the payment made to her/them will be refunded to you, less a pro-rated amount covering the time already spent with you. In the event of you having to or desiring to cut short the arrangement already made and paid for, for any reason whatsoever, the advertisers will not usually refund any of the payments made. The advertisers wish to assure their clients that everybody is treated with the greatest of respect and that they aim to please, not disappoint.

Should it be necessary for your companion to cancel, however, prior to the first meeting, owing to illness, a catastrophic event or a death or serious illness in her family then your companion agrees to reimburse you for her travel ticket

Companionship policy:

The fee paid to your companion is for her time and companionship only. Anything else that occurs during the companionship period is a matter of choice between two consenting adults and does not involve any payments. Anything implied or inferred by any text or images within these pages is NOT to be taken as inducement for payment for anything other than time and companionship.
